enforcement agents more than 21,000 after eight patrol boats than ever before and supported by the largest navy in the world as still persists for prohibition violation as for law, the next summer effort is to be made from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

The three months' treatment and there will be brought this week the appeal to reason and moral standpoint. With the active support of the dry and professional reformers, the administration is now going to try to sell prohibition to the country from a moral standpoint.

To Use Posters

Within a few weeks many 10,000 posters will be distributed throughout the country, which will be a first for a certain cause or to the nation of similar from a national scale. The posters will be distributed with advertisements and this is a first for the government.

Next, finally, the government is going to try to sell prohibition to the country from a moral standpoint. The use of public schools for this purpose will be a first for the government.

the convention of the National Educational association in Atlanta, and by written and spoken word the government is going to appeal to them to inject into the reform work the message that the Volstead law is as important as the laws against slavery and murder.

"Loyally Sunday"

Anna P. Satter, chief of the division of prohibition, will be sent to Atlanta by the government to conduct this experiment in prohibition propaganda. If it is deemed successful it is probable that the government will have means of having prohibition efforts attend other national conventions and international, not in a minor reform organization might send one of its representatives to a convention of doctors.

Chiefly to printing with the advertisement the Anti-Saloon League has launched a "Loyally Sunday" and has broad appeal to all churches to have their pulpits and Sunday school teachers impress upon their attendants that observance of prohibition is a patriotic duty. To teach and preach the patriotic lesson of loyalty to and respect for law.

Sees It As Phase

The president's said the league appeal has stated that obedience and enforcement are the dominant issues before the American people. It is, therefore, appropriate that law enforcement agencies, officers and officials to support the law should be presented in schools and churches in preparation for the celebration of our country's birth (July 4).

Problems Synthesized

But the Anti-Saloon league and its affiliated organizations do not consider prohibition as only one phase of the problem. In the appeal for teaching and preaching next Sunday, the league says, the liquor traffic continues to be the chief center and source of lawlessness directly or indirectly causing countless crimes.

The educational drive, in which the government and the reform organizations are cooperating, is being synchronized with the enforcement of federal laws directed by the customs prohibition and coast guard services.

It is all aimed to bring enforcement to its highest state by next January when the country will have had 50 years of constitutional prohibition and when it is expected the friends and foes of prohibition are going to the mat on whether the 18-year experiment has been successful.

MILLION MILES ARE FLOWN ON WEEK-END

Aviation Enjoys One of Its Busiest Periods; Many Take to Air

NEW YORK, June 24—Aviation, youthful prince of the world's industries, was resting today after enjoying one of the busiest week-ends of its short career.

The Spanish fleet, Commander Franco and his three companions still were listed as missing "somewhere near The Azores" after a fruitless week-end search for them. They disappeared while flying from Spain to

New York by way of The Azores and Halifax, N. S.

In statistics gathered by International News Service from the far-flung reaches of this and other countries show that more persons "took to the air" Saturday and yesterday than at any other period this year.

Mishaps Few

Slightest pilots, transport fliers and amateur sky riders did a land office business, while mishaps, either of a serious or trivial nature, were astonishingly few.

A study of random dispatches from the flying centers indicates that close to a million miles were flown over the week-end.

The most serious of the few accidents occurred at Cincinnati when a plane crashed and then burst into flames. Joseph Hite of Louisville, Ky., Homer Nasiro of Indianapolis, and Harold Biddle of Harrison, O., were killed.

At Holmdale, L. I., a New York suburb, three men were injured, one critically, when a plane stalled and crashed from a height of 600 feet.

Schoenair Forced Down

In Cleveland, William Lowry, a parachute jumper, fell 1800 feet to his death when his "chute" failed to open.

E. J. Cain died when he became disengaged from his parachute after leaping from a plane above Fayetteville, N. C.

Lee Schoenair, Los Angeles to New York flier was forced to abandon his transcountry hop at Duluth, Pa., after a crash from a height of 50 feet.

At Morris Plains, N. J., a Traveler's airplane owned by Mrs. Opal Logan Kunz crashed. Neither Mrs. Kunz nor a man passenger were injured.

Camping out is no fun, unless the other campers are congenial.

"Beggars' Opera" To Be New British Talkie

LONDON—A British sound-film company has started production on a musical "talkie" which is intended to be an answer to "Broadway Melody," the American musical comedy talkie.

The British picture is an adaptation of "The Beggars' Opera," and will be a full length film with 100 per cent singing and talking. It will be founded on the original eighteenth century opera by Gay.

The screen adaptation is being prepared by Henrik Galeen, a well-known European film director.

PLANE DIVES, TAKES LIVES OF THREE

Investigation into Ohio Air Crash Under Way; Ship Mass of Wreckage

CINCINNATI, June 24—An investigation was under way today of the airplane accident Sunday which resulted in death of three men when the plane in which they were riding at the Lantieri Airport, two and one-half miles east of Harrison, Ohio, dived to the ground and burst into flames.

The dead: Homer Nasiro of Indianapolis, pilot of the plane; Joe Hite, Louisville, Ky., a parachute jumper, Harold Biddle, 13 years old, of Harrison, O.

The accident occurred while the plane was heading for the field. Spectators said it dropped from a height of about 200 feet in what seemed to be a forced landing. A light rain was falling at the time. The plane landed in a farmer's field and burst into flames.

The plane was soon a mass of wreckage. The engine was pushed far up into the body of the ship.

The bodies of Nasiro and Hite were so badly burned identification was almost impossible. The bodies were removed to the Hamilton county morgue.

SHOOK PLEADS NOT GUILTY IN COURT

The Set for July 22 Over Objection of O. S. U. Professor's Counsel

Shook was prepared to prepare his case, but the judge will have ample time to prepare the judge, overruling the objection.

Shook later announced that the date of the trial be postponed for a change of venue, on the ground that it would be prejudicial to the defendant to obtain publicity in Franklin county because of the publicity of public sentiment.

The courtroom was crowded in anticipation of the Shook arraignment and the crowd milled in the corridors.

Handed over to Gunning, Shook and 16 other prisoners were transported by deputy sheriffs to an arraignment at the commonwealth building after 9 o'clock. Shook was handcuffed to another prisoner, Albert C. Gunning, of Columbus, who is charged with shooting his wife to death while they were automobile riding.

When the former college professor's case was called he stood up, handcuffed to Gunning. Shook was arraigned in the same gray suit he wore when he was arrested. He was clear shaved and seemed to be refreshed. He stood erect in a dignified manner and answered the judge without a tremor in his voice.

He listened carefully to the reading of the indictment returned against him last Friday by the Franklin county grand jury composed of eight women and seven men. He was prompt and emphatic in his plea of "not guilty" when interrogated by the judge regarding his plea. His voice could be heard in the farthest recesses of the courtroom.

Father in Courtroom

Among those present in the courtroom was Melvin Rix of Bradenton, Fla., the grief-stricken father of the slain girl.

Shook sat down when Prosecutor Chester announced that an agreement had been reached with the judge as to the date of the trial. The defendant listened attentively as his counsel raised objection to the early trial date. He seemed unconcerned, however, when the judge remained adamant.

Judge Duncan ordered that 75 cents be drawn for possible jury service in connection with the Shook trial and instructed that they be on hand on July 22.

To Select Judge

Replying to declarations by Attorney Rix, Shook indicated belief that sufficient time had not been granted the defense to prepare the case. Judge Duncan said:

"I believe that the defendant has been accorded every opportunity and privilege to which he is entitled."

Judge Duncan explained that he would be unable to try the case because his present term as presiding judge in the criminal division of the common pleas court here expires on July 10. He said that while the name of the judge who will hear the case has not yet been determined the selection will be made soon.

Remains Seated

Shook remained in his seat while the prosecutor called a number of other prisoners and arraigned them. As an indication of Shook's mental poise, when the prosecutor called the case of a man accused of defrauding a local hotel, the ex-college professor smiled when Chester read the indictment charging the prisoner with defrauding "an hotel keeper." The prosecutor immediately re-read it. The prosecutor immediately re-read it, "a hotel keeper," correcting the grammatical error.

A few minutes later Shook was taken back to his cell in the county jail with the merry array of other prisoners.

Shook probably will repudiate his signed confession.

Chester Skeptical

When the former college professor is brought to trial, according to indications today his attorneys are expected to attack the confession on the ground that it was forced. The confession was exacted from Shook after hours of questioning by a relay of police officials.

Prosecuting Attorney Chester said today that he was skeptical of the motive given by Shook for hammering and killing Miss Hix to death on the night of June 13 when they were motoring in his blue coupe. Shook said he murdered her because she threatened to kill his wife and baby if he persisted in his intention to take them on a week-end trip.

"I am particularly interested in only one point in the confession," Chester said. "That is the admission of Shook that he killed the girl. That in itself is enough to send him to the electric chair."

Examine Body Again

The three alienists appointed by the prosecution, who examined the mental condition of Shook late Saturday, are expected to make known the result of their findings tomorrow.

The appointment of the alienists was a move on the part of the prosecution to checkmate any attempt to set forth an insanity defense.

Dr. Shook continues to deny his plea philosophically. He is well as the county jail. He has shown no indications of being depressed. On the contrary he has become greatly interested in the efforts of his lawyers to save him from the electric chair.

Top body of the girl, which lies in the morgue, has been examined again to determine among other things whether she was an experienced model, as reported. The girl's father, Melvin T. Rix of Bradenton, Fla., is planning to take the body to her former home in Birmingham, N. Y., for burial.

distributing agencies willing to pay for her statements, photographs and services."

Communities called attention to the fact that the answer contained exhibits of the plaintiff's signature purporting to show that she had signed releases freeing Tunney from all obligations on two occasions. The releases were dated May 23, 1927, and July 24, 1927.

Signed Before Fight

The latter of these two releases was signed, Cummings said, shortly before the Tunney-Henery fight, which marked the heavyweight champion's retirement from the ring.

"Two days before the date set for the boxing contest between Tunney and Henery, while Tunney was in strict training in preparation therefor," the complaint says, "the money demands of the plaintiff and her threats of publicity became more insistent and menacing."

The defendant called upon the court to enjoin Miss Fogarty from prosecuting her action and to have her restrained from bringing any other action in the future, asserting that her signed releases have formed "a perpetual bar" to such litigation.

Fair Killed in Air Accidents

Two Sunday airplane accidents caused the deaths of four persons, three of whom rode to their deaths in one crash.

Joe Hite, a parachute jumper, of Louisville, Ky., Homer Newsome, of Bradenton, Fla., and Harold Bridge, of Bradenton, Fla., were killed near Lancaster airport, at Harrison, near Cincinnati, when their plane nose-dived into a cornfield from the height of 300 feet.

Another son of Hulsebner, James, 10, and an aunt, Mrs. Albert Ingalls, Cleveland, were probably fatally hurt.

CAMPAIGN URGED AGAINST SMALLPOX

Vaccination Most Effective Means of Halting Disease, Weiser Says

Need of a vigorous campaign of vaccination for smallpox in Marion was pointed out this morning by Dr. W. J. Weiser, city health commissioner. This disease is prevalent here, Dr. Weiser said, and will continue to be unless stringent methods are used.

"Children usually have very light cases," Dr. Weiser said, "and often parents do not think it necessary to employ a doctor. The child is permitted to play with other children of the neighborhood, and the disease constantly spreads."

"Although children seldom have severe attacks, they pass it to other people, who usually contract the disease in a serious form. When parents do not call doctors, there is no way the health department can learn of the cases, or quarantine homes and those affected continue to spread smallpox."

Vaccination is the only absolute preventive for smallpox, and both parents and children should be vaccinated whenever there is the slightest danger of catching the disease. Vaccination of adults prevents fatal or severe cases, and of children prevents the spread of the disease in a mild form," Dr. Weiser said.

State health department statistics show that on June 15 there had been as many cases reported this year as reported during the entire year of 1928, this number being approximately 1,225.

One new case was quarantined this morning, while two families were released from quarantine, Dr. Weiser said. Josephine Smith, 3 of 670 Herman st., was found to have smallpox, and the home was quarantined. Homer of William Gorenko, 503 Wood st., and Sam McLeod, 120 Waterline st. were released from quarantine.

ILLNESS FATAL TO JOHN D. OWENS

Death Closes Many Years of Activity in Marion Enterprises

activities were in connection with this partnership. The close quarters and time business at Owens are operated under the partnership name.

The firm at Prospect was operated by the Owens partnership until the death of the property, after which the business there was suspended and the Marion Milling & Grain Co. business was purchased. This was operated until about two years ago as the Marion National Mill.

In 1911 organization of the the good Co. was effected under the leadership of John D. Owens and son and this event was directly the beginning of developments which have resulted in the Owens' interests, controlling five of the city's leading industrial concerns.

Take Charge of Osgood

In 1914 ownership and management of the Osgood Co. passed into the hands of John D. and Clifford A. Owens. The next important step came in 1918 when they organized the Commercial Steel Castings Co. for the purpose of manufacturing of steel castings. This business was purchased by the Owens' interests came in 1923 and shortly afterwards the father and son organized the Allen Cast Steel Co. and the General Excavator Co. for operation of the newly acquired plant.

The success and growth of these two industries in the few years that have elapsed since organization constitute one of the most notable achievements in local industrial annals.

The Power Manufacturing Co. was the fifth local industry acquired by the Owens interests, the enterprise having been merged with the Osgood Co. a few weeks ago.

John D. Owens continued as active executive head of the various enterprises with which he was connected until 1926 and since that time he had been serving in an official capacity executive business concern having been taken over by his son.

At the time of his death he was president of the General Excavator Co. and Allen Cast Steel Co., chairman of the board of directors of the Osgood Co. and member of the boards of the other manufacturing concerns.

Charter Bank Member

Mr. Owens was one of the organizers of the National City Bank. A Trust Co. and served as a member of its board of directors. In addition to the numerous official duties in industrial and financial concerns, he was a member of the partnership of Owens A. Tobin, which operates the Owens' farms of approximately 1,500 acres.

This farm land is situated near the village of Owens and constitutes one of the largest agricultural and dairy enterprises in this section of the state.

John D. Owens was born Nov. 12, 1856, in a log cabin on a site now a part of the village of Owens. The building is still standing on its original site.

His parents were John and Ann Owens, both natives of Wales. The father, looking for a location following his arrival in this country, decided that in Marion county were geological conditions ideal for quarrying, a vacation suited to the nature and training of natives of Wales. The Welsh pioneers started his lime business on a small scale, transporting the product of his lime to Marion in horse-drawn wagons, or railroad facilities being available at that early date. It was as a driver of one of these wagons that the son, John D., started on his industrial career.

John D. Owens was married in this city on Jan. 19, 1882, to Miss Mary Belle Osborne. He is survived by Mrs. Owens and by one son, Clifford A. Also surviving him are two sisters, Mrs. Mary Jane Evans and Mrs. Margaret Stone, both of this city.

Fraternity Connections

Mr. Owens was a member of Marion Lodge No. 70, Free and Accepted Masons, Marion Chapter, No. 62, Royal Arch Masons, Marion Council, No. 22, Royal and Select Masons, and other fraternal organizations.

MARION EAGLES WIN CONVENTION PRIZES

Take First in Parade at Tiffin; Drum Corps Gets Second Award

The marching club of Buckeye, Ohio, No. 337, Fraternal Order of Eagles, was awarded first prize of $50 in the parade held Thursday afternoon at Tiffin, where the annual state convention was held the first four days of last week. The drum corps of the local lodge was awarded second prize of $30 in the contest between the corps of the lodges attending the convention.

Two delegates from the local lodge attended the convention all four days while those in the marching club and the members of the drum corps went to Tiffin for Thursday, which was the closing day of the convention. The marching clubs were judged solely on their appearance, the number of those marching not counting. The drum corps were judged on distance traveled to get to the convention and the number of men. First prize was given to the Cleveland lodge, although the local drum corps was rated nearly on a par with the first prize winners.

What Dr. Caldwell Learned in 47 Years Practice

Dr. Caldwell watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time regardless of how much one tries to avoid it. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his ready-made constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the most delicate system and is not a habit-forming preparation. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it. It does not gripe. Thousands of mothers have written to that effect.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. In a practice of 47 years he never saw any reason for their use when a medicine like Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as promptly, more gently, without griping and harm to the system.

Keep free from constipation! It robs your strength, hardens your arteries and brings on premature old age. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope, but go to a drugstore and get one of the generous bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Take the proper dose that night and by morning you will feel like a different person. Use for yourself and members of the family in constipation, biliousness, sour and crummy stomach, indigestion, no appetite, headaches, and to break up fevers and colic.

JUNE has proved more popular this year as the month of marriages than it has for many summers. Among the long list of nuptial affairs have been a wedding at St. Mary's Catholic church, several weddings in Protestant churches, with bridal attendants, many simple marriages at the church parsonages, quiet, home weddings that were dignified in their simplicity, and the out-of-town wedding that is so popular with many of the younger brides and bridegrooms.

One of the late June weddings will take place Sunday, when Miss Veda Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Shaw, Lincoln av., becomes the bride of Clyde H. Remsch, South Vine st. Their wedding will take place in Trinity Baptist church.

Thursday, June 27, Miss Louise Burgin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Burgin, Windsor st., will be married to Charles Malcolm Schoenlaub, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Schoenlaub, South Prospect st.

until she discovered that perspiration need never offend

PRETTY, gay, marvelous dancer — Evelyn should have been the hit of any party. But she wasn't!

Why? Everybody knew—except Evelyn. Luckily though, Evelyn's new sister-in-law was very frank. There's no "B. O."—no body odor—marrying Evelyn's attractiveness now. She was told the easy way to keep perspiration odorless.

Don't be deceived. We can't tell when we are guilty because our sense of smell becomes deadened to an ever-present odor. But even when we don't seem to perspire, the pores give off as much as a quart of odor-causing waste daily.

Play safe—bathe with Lifebuoy. Its mild, antiseptic lather purifies pores deeply—prevents embarrassing odor. Even removes cigarette smells from the fingers.

Skins, too, stay smooth, clearer with Lifebuoy. Health is safeguarded—it removes germs. You'll love Lifebuoy's pleasant extra-clean scent, which tells you it purifies, yet quickly vanishes as you rinse. Adopt Lifebuoy today.

What a giveaway "B. O." is! Treacherous! Always betraying, but never warning the offender.
